The hospital has 8 operating theatres equipped with the most advanced technology, 373 beds for in-patients, 7 beds in day-hospital, 19 places for Hemodialysis and a Emergency Room with 2 beds. The clinical activity is organized in 26 Specialist Divisions of Diagnosis and Care, 11 Centre of High Specialty, 33 Ambulatory Services, 21 Specialist Services.

The Specialist Divisions of Diagnosis and Care are organized in three principal divisions. Apart from being the most important reference point in Italy when it comes to cardiac pathologies, it is one of the most important centers in the world for the treatment of pediatric and adult congenital heart disease. In fact, only in 2013, approximately 550 cardiac catheterisms (both interventional and diagnostic) and 460 heart surgeries were performed for the benefit of patients affected by this condition.

AICCA, (Associazione Italiana dei Cardiopatici Congeniti Adulti ONLUS) the Italian GUCH Association was founded in 2009 from the desire of people with congenital heart disease to create a support network which acts on different fronts, and it includes people with congenital heart disease, their families, physicians, surgeons, psychologists, and peer counselors, specialized in caring for people with congenital heart disease and their families.

The objective is to prevent the manifestation of medical and psychological problems through the thorough knowledge of the main healthcare techniques inherent to the patients' own condition and pathology.

Currently, AICCA is present on the national territory with regional branches in Lombardy, Sardinia, Sicily, and Puglia. AICCA is in touch daily with its members in all Italy through the website.

www.aicca.eu and the main social networks (Facebook and Twitter).
